

3/8" Raman or Birchwood target arrows

Come with self-wooden field and target points.

$80 per 6

$150 per dozen

Note: These arrows will come with their shaft spine weights written on each individual, as they will spine out on a mostly luck of the draw basis (I do try to get close with hand selection)

*Comes fletched with two or three feathers, determined by what shape and size I have in my shop, not the customer. Sometimes you can choose fletching color or nock color, but most of the time, what I make is what I have for these arrows.

*Finished with polyurethane

*Can be cut to length and have 125 grain field points installed for $20 per half doz, $40 per doz

"Neolithic" built hardwood arrows

$1000- per 3

$1800- per 6

$3200- per dozen

These are the only arrows that I currently will sell to customers who haven't purchased one of my bows, as these arrows are art, and deserve to be enjoyed, by both hunters, and collectors.

These hardwood arrows are split green and cured straight using only stone, antler, wood, and copper tools. They are fixed with flintknapped stone points using pine pitch glue and sinew. The turkey or goose feather fletchings are applied with sinew, and the self nocks are carved by hand and reinforced with sinew.

Note: If you want the arrows to be made from ocean spray natural shoots, that can be arranged but would be even more costly.

Due to long lead times expect these to take up to three months to build, as everything is hand crafted and some things take time to cure "off the clock" while I attend to other projects.

These arrows come as numbered sets and will arrive ready to hunt, or go on display, with a small scrip of rawhide that has their spine weight and length scratched into it. These stand as my authentic modern reproduction of possible stone age arrows made with contemporary Neolithic-era available tools.

*Can be fletched with two, three, four, or flu-flu feathers, however flu-flu cost $200 extra per three arrows.

IMPORTANT- To order Neolithic split Hardwood arrows, you must know:

1. Your personal draw length [measured from the back of the bow to the string at full draw]
2. Your personal draw weight at said draw length
